The blood that cries out from the ground to God is in the plural here, literally "your brother's bloods are crying out to me from the ground." When this plural of the word blood occurs elsewhere in the Bible, as in Isa 4:4 , Isa 26:21 , or Hos 1:4 , it stands for violently shed blood that must be avenged, something like the phrase rivers of blood .

Cry of Abel's Blood

Blood that Cries Out From the Earth is an astonishing tour de force. Dr. Jones probes deeply into the spiritual and emotional needs that drive some youth to accept violent ideologies. He pays particular attention to the interplay between social networks, extreme religion, and individual needs- something that previous studies have missed.

Cain learned, as we all learn, that we can be sure our sin will find us out. Jesus' blood also cried out, but Jesus' blood speaks a better word than the blood of Abel. (Hebrews 12:24) Abel's blood cried out for justice but Jesus' blood cried out "Father forgive them." (Luke 23:24) As a result of Jesus' death, the world changed forever. A way to reconcile with the Father was provided.
