Fractional microneedling radiofrequency (FMR) is one of the promising methods in acne treatment. Moreover, bipolar radiofrequency (BR) generates heat thereby which induces neocollagenosis. FMR may have the potential to be a safe and effective treatment for the patients both with acne and acne scar.

Fractional microneedle radiofrequency is faster and more effective than FR for the treatment of moderate and severe acne after only one treatment. However, after several treatment sessions, both FMR and FR proved to be safe and effective for long-term treatment of moderate-to-severe acne.

Conclusion: Fractional microneedle radiofrequency is faster and more effective than FR for the treatment of moderate and severe acne after only one treatment. However, after several treatment sessions, both FMR and FR proved to be safe and effective for long-term treatment of moderate-to-severe acne. Therefore, invasive radiofrequency, such as FMR, or noninvasive radiofrequency, such as FR, can successfully treat active acne.

However, the bipolar fractional radiofrequency microneedle device has less adverse effects than erbium-doped 1,550-nm non-ablative fractional laser due to the absence of scattering and the absence of chromophore-specific targets - predominantly melanin - traditionally needed with laser treatments; hence the fractional radiofrequency microneedle device will have a higher safety profile in darker skin types .

How does Plasma skin resurfacing compare with RF Fractional Microneedling and Fractional skin resurfacing? Plasma skin resurfacing treats all of your skin (vs. treatments like fractional lasers and micro-needling which only treat small parts of your skin), you get a more consistent result.

Fractional Radiofrequency Microneedling. Benefits of RF Microneedling. Micro-needling (also known as collagen induction therapy) is a minimally invasive treatment that has been used for decades to rejuvenate the skin. A device with fine needles or pins creates tiny punctures in the top layer of the skin, which triggers the body to create new ...

Fractional radiofrequency: the evidence Given the ability of microneedling and RF to improve skin laxity and texture as single modalities, the combination of these technologies promised deeper delivery of thermal energy and greater improvement in laxity as well as skin texture.

Fractional radiofrequency (FR) devices deliver thermal energy to the dermis or subcutaneous tissue via electrodes or microneedles (the reason this procedure is also known as microneedling). Thermal injury can be precisely controlled with temperature and impedance monitoring.

Pros and cons: Fractional erbium laser treatments are better suited to older patients, since, compared to microneedling, they target tissue that is deeper below the surface for an improved boost in collagen production. However, there isn't a firm guideline to determine who may be too young for these particular treatments.

Skin Resurfacing 101: Microneedling vs. Fractional Laser ...
RF Microneedling (MNRF) is a minimally invasive technique that combines the traditional micro-needling procedure effectively with the element of radio frequency energy to rejuvenate the appearance of your skin. The RF pulse carried through fractional technique deep into the dermis enhances skin tightening and reduces acne scars by stimulating the synthesis of both collagen and elastin. The entire procedure causes minimal damage to the upper layers of skin; therefore, it involves marginal ...
