This is ethical consideration in action. Ethical considerations that criminal justice policymakers must make include citizens' rights to privacy, prisoners' rights while incarcerated, and how to apply laws and justice procedures to the population without privileging or disadvantaging specific groups. A criminal justice system is meant to serve the people, not to punish them unjustly or only serve specific classes.

~~Ethics, Crime, and Criminal Justice by Christopher R. Williams~~

Ethics are actually the very foundation of the criminal justice system. They're what helped us, as a society, develop the moral reasoning we use, define criminal activity, and deem acceptable as punishment. It's an important topic because our criminal justice system is most effective when it's operating in an ethical manner.
