The girls were dressed as tulips, and the girl in the center was the rainbow tulip. Rather than doing a Maypole dance as in the book, the girls did a Mexican dance that combined going around in a circle and a " London Bridge" element. The tune was one Pat's aunt, Ignacia Delgado, used to sing to Pat and her siblings.

The Rainbow Tulip - Pat Mora

The Rainbow Tulip is written by Pat Mora and is illustrated by Elizabeth Sayles. It is the true story of Estelita's experience participating in a May parade. Estelita, eager to take part in the parade, asks her aunt to sew her a beautiful, multi-colored tulip skirt. When she arrives at school on the day of the parade, however, some boys laugh at her colorful skirt, and Estelita finds herself embarrassed that she isn't dressed like the other girls.
